Joey Newman (ASCAP) is an Emmy®-nominated, third generation film and television composer of the famed Hollywood musical Newman dynasty. A drummer, conductor and orchestrator, he earned his degree from the Berklee College of Music. He got his start working in television, co-composing with Emmy®-winning composer W.G. “Snuffy” Walden. For five years, Joey composed the orchestral score to NCsoft’s LINEAGE, one of the biggest online role-playing games in history. As a conductor and orchestrator, Joey has worked across the media spectrum including orchestrating for his cousin Randy and conducting alongside Michael Tilson Thomas and John Williams.

Joey’s music can currently be heard on the hit ABC comedy THE MIDDLE, starring Patricia Heaton - now in it’s 8th season - and most recently on NBC’s drama THE MYSTERIES OF LAURA, starring Debra Messing. Recent film credits include the multiple award-winning drama ANY DAY NOW (starring Alan Cumming) and the Star Wars Fan Film HOSHINO (starring YouTube heavyweight Anna Akana).
